

My Family: Stories That Bring Us Together

Instructions for Consultants

“We discover something about ourselves when we learn about our ancestors.”

Thomas S. Monson, “Constant Truths for Changing Times,” Ensign or Liahona, May 2005, 21

The new My Family: Stories That Bring Us Together booklet is a resource that you can use to help members feel the Spirit as they engage in family history and temple work. Encourage and help members to follow these steps to get started:

Talk

with their family, and use the booklet to record stories and information about their ancestors and their families.

Enter

the stories and information they’ve collected into FamilySearch.org.

(You can offer to enter their stories and information for them, if needed.)

Attend

the temple on behalf of their ancestors, or arrange for others to do so.

Using the Help Others Feature
